

Make your European Civic Service in Frankfurt Oder, Germany

Volunteering with the European Civic Service offers a unique opportunity for civic engagement while enjoying an enriching experience abroad. This programme enables young people aged 18 to 30 to contribute to a variety of projects, such as education, the environment or helping vulnerable communities, while discovering new cultures. As well as developing professional and personal skills, volunteers receive full financial support, including also language support. This experience enhances teamwork, builds self-confidence and broadens horizons, while promoting European values such as solidarity and inclusion. It's an ideal opportunity to combine commitment, learning and travel.

COLLECTIF POUR UN SERVICE CIVIQUE EUROPÉEN

CREATION

The Collectif pour un Service Civique Européen (CSCE) is the story of young people under the age of 30. They are inspired by their own experience of mobility (Erasmus, European Voluntary Service, International Voluntary Service) and their commitments to associations and citizens, in particular civic service. They have volunteered to create the very first mechanism combining national civic services and their European equivalent, the European Solidarity Corps. The aim is to provide an innovative way for all volunteers to prepare for and then move to another European country to serve society. Thanks to the efforts of around fifty volunteers of a dozen different nationalities, the project has been successfully lobbied by the French government. It has been presented as a priority during the French presidency of the European Union from January to June 2022.

OUR PROJECT IN DETAILS

In some countries, national civic service already enables young people to make a commitment, and the European Solidarity Corps, financed by the European Union, enables 50,000 volunteers a year (out of 4.7 million in a European age group) to do so in another country.

Despite everything, this opportunity is still too limited and elitist.

Our aim is to create the maximum of qualitative opportunities for young people for accompanied civic engagement and for mobility projects. Our way is to combine and to collaborate as most as possible between countries and programmes.

Our basic model to give more access to more young people to civic engagement and to community:

- 6 months' civic service – or long-term youth volunteering programme – in your own country or in your own region, to live and work alongside young people from all over Europe (50% local, 50% in mobility), while preparing for your departure, including linguistic preparation.
- Then, 6 to 12 months of European citizenship mobility in the country of their choice, through the European Solidarity Corps.

Another time, the young people carry out their assignments in mixed groups – 50% nationals and 50% European

Start your European Civic Service in Frankfurt Oder AND you have the support to go abroad for a funded volunteering project in other European countries!
